

Capt. S. M. Boone's Venture.

Somerset, Ky., March 1.—(Special.)—The initial number of the Pulaski County Enterprise, a thoroughly Democratic paper, appeared this morning. It presents a very neat appearance, and its matter is bright and spicy. Capt. S. M. Boone and C. E. Colyer, its editors, are both popular and staunch Democrats, and it is expected that they will do good work toward uniting the badly demoralized Democracy of Pulaski. Capt. Boone has made a number of ventures in journalism, and has always retired with additional laurels. Cy. E. Colyer is a rising young lawyer, with plenty of ability and an endless number of relatives and friends.
