AT GOODWIN'S CORNER

Junction City.

A representative of this paper had occasion to stop over night and for several hours of a day at Junction City, and took time to make a general inspection of the pleasant little city, and to his surprise found more pleasant neat and substantial houses there than are in any city of its size any where. Junction City is prosperous, orderly and peaceful, and is one of the most pleasant little towns we know, and there is a large amount of business done. There is a good bank, and a dozen or so of prosperous retail houses, a fine bakery of large capacity, and there is also a wholesale grocery establishment, and under the management of Col. R. H. West, there is an immense egg, chicken and other produce bought there, he handling several car loads per week using the help of five or six men to handle the stuff, and he pays big prices for all kinds of produce, among which we notice a large lot of country hams that have a most most appetizing look. Persons having produce for which they want the best cash price should see Col. West or write to him.

Further, we call attention to a fine piece of property which our readers will find advertised for sale in that place, which is the McCollum hotel, and we notice it is having a good run of patronage. Mr. and Mrs. G. D. McCollum have been continuously in the hotel business for 25 years, and want to take a rest. They have ten acres of pretty ground attached to the hotel including splendid garden lands in good shape and beautiful fruit trees and lovely surroundings. Some one has fine chance for getting a good business.

LACE CURTAINS.

If you have lace curtains that you want laundered telephone Mrs. Manda Williams at No. 341, or send them to her residence on South Maple Street. Work guaranteed at 25c per pair.

COOK BOOK.

To be issued By Uncle Sam.

Uncle Sam is about to issue a cook-book, and the cook-book may be had for the asking from the Department of Agriculture. In its investigation into the high cost of food it has discovered quite generally, that the cheaper cuts of meat are more difficult to cook properly than are the high-priced steaks and cuts, and that this difficulty is due to a lack of knowledge by the housewife or the cook of how to make the meat appetizing and palatable. Therefore, Secretary Wilson determined some time ago to provide the housekeepers of this country with practical knowledge of how to cook meats, and his department has now issued a cook-book which will tell how to cook meat economically and palatably. The book is known as "Economic Use of Meats in the Home," and a copy of it will be sent to any one writes for it to the Secretary of Agriculture.

The contents cover a variety of subjects, including fifty recipes of savory dishes, and much general information, such as: "General methods of preparing meats; utilizing cheaper cuts of meats in palatable dishes; a simple but practical method of extending the flavor of meats." The recipes have been selected from a wide range collected from approved sources and are all simple formulae, calling for such items of food as are generally to be found in every household, and requiring no technical knowledge to compound.

THE WHEAT SUPPLY

Very Short And Flour Will Likely Make Another Raise.

The visible supply of wheat is 18,000,000 bushels less than last year. The price of flour will advance soon, because of the many reports of damage to the growing wheat plant, caused first by the extremely wet condition of the ground, and second by the extreme cold weather at the time when the wheat plant has no protection whatever.

Owing to an appreciable decrease in the visible supply of the country the millers are predicting an increase, or advance in the price of flour. They believe that the advance in the cost of wheat products will come soon and unexpectedly. The decrease in the wheat supply came as a great surprise as an increase had been expected. According to commission men, there has been a better milling demand for cash wheat in the northwest as well as in the southwest.

According to reports from Minneapolis 170,000 barrels of flour were sold in that city in one day recently. Dealers estimate that the flour sold in Minneapolis last month exceeds that of the same month last year by 500,000 barrels at the same time the visible wheat is 18,000,000 bushels less than last year at this time.

Farmers as well as millers believe that all the cash wheat in Chicago is owned by one man, and that May wheat will be $1.25 per bushel. Neither the farmers nor the millers think that there is much wheat in the country as is the supposition of many. It is believed that the farmers will hold at least a small part of their last year's crop of wheat until such time as they will be able to determine the condition of the growing crop.

The spring season is ahead of time a full month and if there is no wet-baked good old summer-time feeling will come a month earlier, and we will have some fresh "green corn in June on a plate."

Farmers are very busy preparing another crop, several has their already planted.

Perhaps the tenderhearted good and charitable people had better go slow in the matter of believing that Curt Jett is a reformed man. Better let him soak awhile longer before turning him loose to do as he pleases in this wicked world for fear he should be tempted above that which he shall be able to endure.

Excavation for the foundation of the High School building began last Monday with a large force of laborers and the work along various lines will be kept going so that the whole work of the new building will be completed early in the fall. NOTES OF PERSONS.

C. U. COLYER.

Charles Granaid Colyer, who resided about three miles south-east of town, died last Monday, after several months of feeble health due to age and a general wearing out of the vital organs.

His father was John Colyer, who lived and reared a large family of 19 sons and daughters, and died on the old homestead now known as the Warren farm at the bridge of Pitman creek on the Sablimity road, about six and one half miles from this town, and his mother was Lydia Pervia, who was the old gentleman's second wife and the mother of fourteen of his children and his first wife was a Miss Sinclair, who was the mother of five of the older children.

I first became intimately acquainted with the family of John Colyer Sr. in 1866, when my father removed to the farm adjoining theirs on the opposite side of Pitman creek, now the Allen farm, and from the first moment was convinced that there never was a more gallant, neighborly or hospitable family in the world. To the young man's mind their home was a model place to get good treatment and have a joyous happy time. It was better than a circus to be with those old big boys at the corn huskings or hoeing; threshings or stacking; the log cuttings or rollings, and to have to do hard and heavy work, when four or five of them were on hands and helping at the labor, it was the best kind of entertainment, and we want to tell you that no laddie was ever imposed upon in that good company, for they stood over those in need of a defender on every occasion.

I knew nearly all of the family well but ten of the younger ones were best known by me and Granaid was one of them. All of the Colyers differed from me in religious name and also political as well, but they were always my friends, even in old war times when we were in battle array for the right, each as we saw it, and in our personal associations none of us ever dared to attempt to muzzle the other or make one too dumb to speak his honest sentiment.

Granaid Colyer was the last one of that large family to pass from the earth to the Great Beyond and my faith in God's promises and my knowledge of his manner of life leads me to say to his good wife and other loved ones that it is all well with him, for he surely has the righteous man's reward.

His brother, J. Perry Colyer, died only a few months ago.

The first set of children of John Colyer were Buford, John, Alex, William and Mrs. Dickie Smith.

His full brothers and sisters were, I. Lusey, Cy, John, Sinclair, Martin, Wesley, Perry, Granaid, Samuel, Nathaniel, and Mrs. Harriet Black, Mrs. Menerva Richardson, Mrs. Lizzie Eastham, and one other.

Their old father died over half a century ago and their mother over a third of a century, and this writer made obituary notices of most of them as they passed away, a sad duty that we have performed faithfully.

To his last afflicted wife and her noble children, we extend sincerest condolence, as their long-time friend.

Jones, who lives at Radner, Ohio, enclosing $1.00 for renewal, who is a well-known former citizen of this county and his wife having been raised in this county, he being a son of the late Aden Jones of Mt. Zion neighborhood, and she being a daughter of the late Isaac Surber. He says he is the only one living of Aden Jones' family. Mr. Jones is one of the pioneer prohibitionists of Pulaski county and says he is still praying for the downfall of the liquor traffic, and that he thinks the Lord will help to remove it if we all push along the good work. Mr. Jones and wife are very excellent people, but we were surprised when he wrote identifying them as old friends that we had known well when they lived here, we having failed to notice that they were old Pulaskians, when they first subscribed for the paper, he having failed to call attention to the fact. They have many friends in Pulaski who will be glad to learn they are prospering in Ohio. We are sorry to learn of the death of his brother, Cyrus M. Jones, which occurred, we have just heard, several weeks ago, at his home near Stanford. He was a good friend and a most excellent man.

WILL DISSOLVE PARTNERSHIP.

Friends of Bradley and Cureton Guessing As to Cause.

Louisville, Ky.—Announcement of the dissolution of the law partnership of Senator William O. Bradley and State Senator Nat C. Cureton was made, causing much surprise to friends of both. The manner in which the announcement was made and the silence of both in regard to it leads to the belief that relations between the two had grown greatly strained before it was decided to publicly announce the breach. Senator Bradley left for Washington without making a statement. Office assistants stated that the dissolution was made by mutual consent. By some it is believed that the dissolution was brought about by Senator Cureton's espousal of the county unit bill, while others hold that Senator Bradley's lack of support of Senator Cureton in his candidacy for the Louisville postmastership is the cause of the breach.

Camden, Versailles; George A. Long, Louisville; Maj. Foxhall A. Dangerfield, Lexington; and Col. Milton H. Young, Lexington. Of the commission Col. Young and Col. Clay are reappointed. The commission meets in Lexington in a few days for the purpose of electing a chairman and secretary. Under the law Gov. Wilson is required to appoint three breeders of thoroughbreds, but the members of the commission are all breeders, and are the best-known breeders in the United States. W. E. Bridwell is tipped as the next secretary of the commission.

SALE OF POOLED BURLEY.

District Boards to Ratify Fixed Sale Price of $18.

Lexington, Ky.—No sale of the 1909 crop of tobacco pooled with the Burley Tobacco society has been made as yet, but negotiations are said to be pending out of which there may shortly come a deal. According to a member of the executive committee some information on this subject may be given to the public as to the result of the meeting of the district board of the Burley Tobacco society, which has been called to meet here. It was made known that the officials of the society have fixed the sale price of the pooled tobacco at $18 per 100 pounds, subject, of course, to the ratification of the district boards.

Louisville, Ky.—Elaborate plans are being laid for the entertainment of delegates to the convention of the National Wholesale Grocers' association, to be held here May 24, 25 and 26. They will be given a banquet, a private vaudeville show, a tour of the city in automobiles and a trip to Mammoth cave. The convention will bring 500 delegates to the city.

Independence, Ky.—At the meeting of the county commissioners the report of Dr. Metcalf was received and Commissioner Jameson appointed to make a settlement with him. The matter was then laid over a month, when it will be referred to the committee on printing and stationery to be put in book form. As Judge Cleary made an error in the county court calling the next term of the commissioners to meet on the first Tuesday in May instead of in April, nothing was done in considering the tax levy, it being deemed advisable to wait.

SET DATE FOR PRIMARY.

Perfect Harmony at Seventh District Committee Meeting.

Frankfort, Ky.—The Democratic committee of the Seventh Congressional District decided to hold a primary election Saturday, June 25, for the purpose of selecting the nominee for congress to be voted for at the November election. There were no explosive speeches and perfect harmony prevailed. Former Congressman W. P. Kimball, of Lexington, noted that there was no provision in the call for the selection of officers for the primary, and W. O. Davis, committee man from Woodford county, offered a resolution which defined the manner in which the election officers shall be chosen. Mr. Kimball offered a resolution that challengers or bystanders are permitted to challenge the vote of any person in the primary who is believed to have sold his certificate or allowed it to be held by another person. It was adopted. Candidates must enter by written notice not later than June 10 and pay the required assessment. If only one candidate qualifies by June 14 he shall be declared the nominee.

CONSTRUCTION ON STATUTE.

State Treasurer Asks Attorney General for an Opinion.

Frankfort, Ky.—On account of a possible misconstruction of the statute allowing the issue of interest-bearing warrants, Capt. Ed Parley, state treasurer, has written to Judge James Breathitt, attorney general, asking an opinion and construction of the act. The act says that warrants for the common schools and the state university shall not bear interest, but Capt. Parley wants to know if this restriction applies to warrants for appropriations made to the state university and the normal school. He also wants to know if warrants for appropriations for any other purpose shall bear interest, as for instance, in the case of the Kentucky Children's Home society, which has an annual appropriation.

CLASSIED WITH BOARD.

Chief of Institute for Feeble Minded Tenders Resignation.

Frankfort, Ky.—Dr. D. J. Healy, superintendent of the Institute for Feeble Minded in this city, tendered his resignation to the board of control of charitable institutions of the state. Dr. Healy is regarded in the highest esteem professionally by the members of the board, but they did not like the manner in which he executed the orders of the board. It is said Dr. Healy will be succeeded by Dr. C. A. Nevitt, who had charge of the institution temporarily prior to Dr. Healy's appointment.

SUMMONS SENATOR WATKINS.

Will Testify Before Jury on Charges of Graft in Assembly.

Frankfort, Ky.—Senator Jeff Watkins, of Union county, has been summoned to appear before the Franklin county grand jury. During the recent session of the legislature Senator Watkins made the charge that four senators had sold out for $20,000, and the grand jury will investigate these charges of bribery. After Senator Watkins' evidence is given several senators and representatives will be summoned.

Frankfort, Ky.—Clay Lawson, of Wolfe county, serving two years' sentence for killing his cousin, W. P. Lawson, was paroled by the board of prison commissioners. This parole will be the last granted under the old law, unless an emergency similar to this one exists. Lawson's wife is at the point of death with typhoid fever. He has served eight months of his term.

Owensboro, Ky.—At a meeting of the Green River Tobacco Growers' association held in Owensboro, W. G. Riney, of this county, was elected president, and Hiram Harksberry, of Browns Valley, vice president. Delegates were in attendance from Davies, McLean, Hancock and Ohio counties. The retiring president, Henry S. Berry, made his report for the year, showing that there is a balance of more than $2,000 in the treasury.

Frankfort, Ky.—Capt. Jackson Morris, assistant secretary of state, is tipped to succeed McKenzie Todd as private secretary to Gov. Wilson. Should he get the post W. Sherman Ball, of Breckenridge county, now of the corporation department, may get Morris' job.

Lexington, Ky.—David Gray Falconer is the new president of the Kentucky Racing association. Johnson U. Camden, appointed by Gov. Wilson to serve on the state racing commission, resigned, and Mr. Falconer was at once chosen as his successor.

Or Else Burn.

Andrew Carnegie, apropos of his epigram about the disgrace of dying rich, said at a dinner in Washington: "Why should any one die rich? There are no pockets in a shroud, and as for the man who'd like to take his money with him, why, even if he is managed to do so, it would only leak."

Critics and Managers Clash.

Between the whole press of Copenhagen and all the theatrical managers a curious contest has started because the managers want to compel the critics to write only favorable notices. The contest began when the board of theatrical managers forbade the admission of one critic representing a special theatrical paper.

The President's Speech.

The president of the Hewitt Bros. Soap Company, Dayton, Ohio, says: "Buy two cakes of Easy Task soap for ten cents; use one bar, and if it isn't just what we say it is, you get your dime back in a fifty." It is a strong claim to say that Easy Task soap cuts the work of washday in half, but the fact can be proven by the evidence of thousands of delighted women.

Love at First Sight.

Friend—So yours was a case of love at first sight? Love, Gotthard—Yes, indeed. I fell desperately in love with my dear husband the moment I set eyes upon him. I remember it as distinctly as if it were yesterday. I was walking with papa on the beach at Long Beach, when suddenly papa stopped, and, pointing him out, said: "There, my dear, is a man worth ten millions."—New York Weekly.

Reason for Envy.

The stinky man had come home and had objected when his wife attempted to kiss him. "I've just had a tooth pulled," he explained. "Well, I envy the dentist," his wife replied. "You envy the dentist? What do you mean?" "Oh, nothing much," the wife sighed. "Only he's the first person I've ever heard of who succeeded in getting anything out of you."—Woman's National Daily.

Returning to Prose.

Flushed with triumph and 90 degrees in the shade, parched and scant of breath, they stood upon the towering mountain peak, and surveyed the gorgeous panorama that spread itself beneath them like a two-inch to the mile ordnance map of the whole world.

"There!" she exclaimed, angrily.

"We have climbed all this distance to admire the beauties of nature, and we've left the glass at home!" "Tranquilly smiling, he shifted the lunch basket to the other arm. "Never mind, dear," he replied. "There's nobody about. It won't hurt us just this once to drink out of the bottle."—Answers.

ABANDONED IT

For the Old Fashioned Coffee Was Killing.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table.

"I had been troubled some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily.

"Sometimes it would beat fast and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill, it gave me a severe pain.

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be caused by coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly. I am now glad to say that I am entirely well of the heart trouble and attribute the relief to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum.

"A number of my friends have abandoned the old fashioned coffee and have taken up with Postum, and they are using steadily. There are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if it is boiled long enough, according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage. We have never used any of the old fashioned coffee since Postum was first started in our house."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason." Never read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

SPIRITISM SAID TO BE DEMONISM

A most interesting little Brochure has recently come off the press setting forth with Bible quotations and communications received by and through Spirit Mediums is of Demon origin. The writer traces his subject through the Scriptures from the time when the Holy angels became disobedient. He proves from the Scriptures that these fallen spirits deal in perverting the human mind, with whose passed history, spirits though invisible, are thoroughly acquainted. He shows that they also frequently personate the Creator and the Redeemer, commanding their deceived ones to pray, do penance etc. This, however, is merely to lead them on and to bring them more thoroughly under demonic control. Sometimes by breaking down the natural barrier, the human will, they obsess their victim, and rule him more or less to his ruin—frequently sending such to the mad house. Numerous illustrations of the Scriptural and otherwise are given. The price of the little book is but ten cents; it should be in the hands of all interested in Spiritism or who have friends interested therein. Enclose five two cent stamps to the Bible & Tract Society, 17 Hicks St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Laxative for Women Free

There is a great difference in the purpose to which a laxative should be put. Tablets and pills, salts, etc., are usually violent purgatives or cathartics, and altogether too powerful for the average person.

A woman at all times needs only a mild laxative—in fact, none other is needed by anyone, strong though they may be, for the object is simply to move the bowels, and if a gentle laxative will do it, what is the use of a violent one?

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has earned a well-deserved vogue among women and children and of folk—people who must necessarily be careful of what they take. It is the greatest stomach, liver and bowel remedy before the American people. The price is only 50 cents or $1 a bottle, as it comes in both sizes, and for girls sell it. Its pleasant taste and gentle action make it free of all remedy for women such as indigestion, torpid liver and such like ailments. Its use is simple and its effect is sure. Its tone-inducing will remove the trouble and the stomach and intestinal muscles so that they act naturally and healthfully. It is so in the experience of many heads of families like Mrs. Brannan, of Alvarado, Va.; Mrs. K. H. Stout, of Louisville, Ky.; and numerous others; in fact, way out in Williams, Cal., as Mrs. J. E. Blackmore, of that place, writes, "My whole town seems to be using it."

If the remedy is new to you and you want to make a trial of it before buying, send your name to the doctor's address as below and a free test bottle will be sent you. Then, if results are satisfactory you can buy it of your druggist.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 500 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

Somerset Republican.

OFFICE IN MASONIC BUILDING.

E. H. HANSFORD,
Editor and Publisher.
Successor to HANSFORD & CO.

Entered as Second Class matter at the post office at Somerset, Ky., under the act of Congress March 3rd, 1879.

The Price of THE REPUBLICAN is Five CENTS ADVANCE;
Otherwise Price is $1.50.

Somerset, Ky., April 15, 1910.

The Edwards organs have been jumping out. Hon. Caleb Powers in a most vicious manner, and having succeeded pretty well in helping Mr. Powers in his race for Congress, are beginning to snap at everything that comes in their way who is not a gang Republican. The latest subject of their slanderous assaults is Gov. Willson. Evidently the Governor does not do things to please them, but has a way of acting according to the dictates of an honest man's conscience, and does those things which he believes are for the greatest good of the greatest number. Governor Willson does not advise with or consult the bosses.

SUCCESS IS THE DANGER

The only thing the Republican party has to fear from the Congressional election in Rochester, now pending, is the success of its candidate.

A victory for Boss Aldridge, the man who accepted $1,000 from the insurance lobby at Albany, and who is said to be a machine politician of the worst type, will be a black eye to decency and a boomerang for the party that has permitted his nomination.

The issue in Rochester is being fought out wholly on a personal and local basis. It will throw no light upon the general Congressional election in the fall. It will illustrate to some degree the effect that the recent exposures of graft and corruption in the State Legislature have had upon the public mind.

The Democrats have put up a clean, strong and able man. He is handicapped to some extent by his corporations' affiliations and his standing as a "silk stocking" in the social world; but he is immeasurably the better representative of respectability.

It is almost too much to expect that he will win in a constituency so overwhelmingly Republican. Over 10,000 majority must be out down; but it is to be hoped that he will poll a sufficiently big vote to rebuke the type of politics embodied in his opponent.

The Republican party can afford better to be defeated than to win when it has men like Aldridge as its nominees, and many good Republicans throughout New York State will express relief if Rochester repeats, for other reasons the miracle of Massachusetts. —Louisville Herald.

The Indiana campaign will be the center of interest this year. Senator Beveridge has taken an aggressive position and he will arouse the State. The battle is to be fought on living issues and the men on whom rests the future of the Republican party will come to her aid. The Attorney General, in Chicago Saturday night, made a covert attack on the position of Senator Beveridge, but he did not weaken it. The decision of the President to treat Indiana as an insurgent province will add interest to the conflict. Mr. Roosevelt can be counted on for assistance, and the western leaders of the Republican party will be heard. Not since the Lincoln-Douglass debate in Illinois has there been a Senatorial campaign bigger with political consequences. —Louisville Post.

CRITICISM:

S. K. Jones, of Radnor, Ohio, formerly of this county, criticises a book that has been advertised in this paper, as follows, very properly:

"I have read the book, 'Difficult Scriptures.' The writer is a deceiver preaching heresy. He says the word hell means the grave every time, which is not true, but contradicts the Word. He says [when the wicked die] they go out of existence, another contradiction of God's word. See Matthew 13 chapter, verses 49 and 50, also Matthew 25 chapter, verse 41 and many other Scriptures."

"The author is throwing out a good tasted bait and some are grabbing at it eagerly."

When the little Edwards papers jump on Gov. Willson, the Republican Governor of Kentucky, it makes all true Republicans open their eyes and make a kick. Republicans know that Gov. Willson is good and wise Executive, and was because he was strong and forceful that he has restored good order in the State and put down the lawlessness that prevailed throughout the State when he came into office. Willson did it and he is a good governor, and he don't belong to a gang.

The street carnival is giving a lot of people much pleasure. The array of vanity and vaudeville talent is of a very extensive assortment. There are plenty of trained wild animals also a number of Indians and their squaws and a throng of cow boys and girls, and a great many other novelties that we have not been having here previous to this time. There are many free attractions and we presume that each party tent is well worth the price of admission.

See G. D. McCullom's splendid Hotel Property advertised for sale in this issue.

If you have not attended the Carnival, its about time you were getting there. We are inclined to believe it is the best one yet. Every show is worth the price, the music is of a high order, and the outside attractions are splendid.

Have you sold your snakes yet?

WITH COURT.

INDETERMINATE SENTENCE WILL BE LEFT.

Jury Will No Longer Fix the Term of Punishment for Convicted Persons.

"Under the new law, the juries of Kentucky will no longer be called upon to fix the term of punishment, and the only issue for their deliberations will be that of guilt or innocence, thereby rendering their labors less difficult and minimizing the chances for disagreement. In a criminal trial, with the issue of guilt fairly and legally proven, the jury will simply have to say guilty, and the law disposes of the punishment.

"In passing sentence the trial court will impose the full term provided by law according to the nature of the crime, and this system is well calculated to prevent costly repetitions of trials through disagreements of juries, resulting in an immense saving to the State, enhancing the more rapid disposition of criminal cases appearing on the dockets of courts and leave the ultimate of punishment in the hands of person convicted.

"Good conduct and an implicit obedience to prison rules means a parole when the minimum period of punishment has been served, while an opposite course will result in confinement for the maximum term.

"This new criminal departure for Kentucky is but an entering of the wedge of prison reform. It can not be a finality. When in working order the new law, through its operation, will enable the prison commissioners to determine its effect upon crime, and if it is beneficial we may look for a further extension of reform in the same direction until a model system has been built.

A request for a parole for Curt Jett, the Breathitt county murderer who is serving a life sentence, has been filed with the Board of Prison Commissioners.

Lou. M. H. Thatcher has been confirmed in his appointment as Isthmian Canal Commissioner, by the United States Senate.

A Minister's Indigestion

Rev. Fletcher of Tennessee Suggests a Remedy Based on Personal Experience—You Can Get It Free.

There is nothing that is so much sought after as a remedy for stomach trouble, and hence you will be interested to know how the Rev. A. J. Fletcher of Rutherford, Tenn., whose picture we present herewith, cured his indigestion. In his own words, he says, in part: "I received the sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin that you sent me, and made up my mind to try it in ordering it. I have been troubled with dyspepsia and indigestion more or less for about thirty years, and have taken many remedies, but Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has done me more good than any other I saw."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been sold in drug stores for twenty years. The price is only 50 cents or $1 a bottle. It is especially adapted to the uses of babies, children, women and old folks. Its purity is vouched for by the Government, and you have never tried it send name and address for a sample bottle, which will be cheerfully sent to your home prepaid. If there is any medical advice that you want, or anything about your condition that you don't understand, write the doctor. Address: Your Name, Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

The Large Way.

Propos of J. Pierpont Morgan's immense resources, as shown in his recent proffer of $100,000,000 wherewith to build more New York subway, a broker said:

"Mr. Morgan's wealth causes him to look at money in a large way. Once, at the Metropolitan club in Fifth avenue, I told him of the death of a mutual friend. "How much did he leave?" Mr. Morgan asked. "A matter of five or six millions, I believe," said I. "Mr. Morgan's eyebrows lifted. "How deceptive circumstances sometimes are," he said. "I always supposed him quite comfortably off."

The Dog Settled It.

The multimillionaire was uncertain. "But how do I know you can support my daughter in the manner to which she has been accustomed?" he demanded, dubiously.

The imported nobleman smiled blandly. "I will go to test," he volunteered. "What test?" "I will live with you one year and see how she is accustomed and then I will know what to say." W. B. But just then James the footman, liberated the $5,000 bulldog.

Newfoundland's Bad Record.

The Newfoundland Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis is carrying on a vigorous and necessary campaign this year in the island. The death rate from the disease in Newfoundland is very large. About one in every five of the total population dies of it, and, what is worse, in the last six years the death rate, which is stationary or decreasing elsewhere, has increased about 50 per cent. This is due largely to the native horror of fresh air in the house.

We would willingly have others perfect, and yet we amend not our own faults.—Thomas a Kempis.

KEEP TARIFF PEACE

DISAGREEMENT WITH CANADA TO BE AVOIDED.

Anything in the Nature of a Struggle Would Have Been Most Unfortunate—Important Field for Our Manufacturers.

It is good news that tariff peace with Canada is practically assured. The time limit for an agreement was almost reached before the difference between Washington and Ottawa were adjusted, and a failure to come to such a conclusion would have been costly to both countries and in every sense unfortunate.

The Dominion is one of the best customers for American products, notwithstanding the fact that the two countries are rivals in the markets of the world in disposing of many important staples, chiefly agricultural. The rapid growth of Canada is adding enormously to the purchasing power of Canadian trade centers, and the value of Canadian patronage is fast increasing. In fact, the rate per cent. of expansion in the international trade of the Dominion is higher than the rate of growth in the foreign commerce of the United States. The figures are bigger on this side of the border, but the rate of increase is lower.

In February the expansion of the foreign commerce of the Dominion was nearly 20 per cent. In the first 11 months of the Canadian government's fiscal year the rate of gain was more than 20 per cent. The actual increase was over $104,000,000. There is nothing small about the Canada of to-day.

Such a country, separated from this republic by a boundary 3,000 miles long and mainly nothing but an imaginary line, must be one of the most important fields in the world for American manufacturers and exporters of all kinds to cultivate. To maintain friendly and favorable trade relations with the Dominion ought to be a settled policy of the United States.

Placid Words for Arbitration.

Placid advocacy of peace and arbitration is now fashionable even in quarters that have no intention of taking a real step forward in the direction of armament limitation and reduction of the staggering war or defense burdens. But President Taft made some declarations before the American Peace and Arbitration league that are significant and prophetic. They should, and doubtless will, have great moral effect. They will, at any rate, inspire and gratify all the active peace workers of the world.

It is no small matter to secure submission to arbitration of questions involving construction of treaties and differences over individual claims or minor property rights. It would be a much greater victory for reason, good will and humanity to secure the submission of questions involving "national honor" or "vital interest." The ordinary arbitration speech or article expressly disclaims the idea of including such questions, but Mr. Taft tells the world that personally he sees no moral or practical objection to the arbitration of matters of honor and vital interest. He is prepared to go beyond most men, and all the rules or men so far heard from on the subject, in favoring arbitration before and by proper tribunals of all international disputes without exception or limitation.

Kings, presidents, premiers and foreign ministers will recognize the importance of this "personal" opinion of the head of the United States. It cannot fail to stimulate the work of the true friends of peace—and of the discussion of limitation of armaments by agreement as the next duty and task of the enlightened nations.

Strange It Didn't Come Sooner.

The west is not going crazy for low tariff rates. Colorado is a state in which a good deal of opposition to the new law was made to prevail, but the intelligent people out there are not to be fooled by the silly free trade trick of trying to buy an advance in prices of necessities of life to the tariff. "The Boulder (Colo.) News remarks: 'If the tariff is the cause of high prices, which is constantly asserted, it is strange that they did not come sooner. We have had a high tariff law for many years, and it is curious if it has just begun to affect prices so radically, and especially on those articles on which the tariff has been reduced or removed.' It is just as reasonable to attribute to the tariff the altitudinous prices of wheat, gold and other products during the strenuous times of the civil war.—Troy Times.

The congress and Mr. Taft are committed to the ideals and the policies of that great American, Abraham Lincoln, and his wise dictum on the field of Gettysburg: "Government by the people, for the people and of the people shall not perish from the earth." —Wausaon (O.) Republican.

LIVING HERE AND ABROAD

Words of Samuel Gompers Good Evidence as to the Benefits of Protection.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, gives some interesting facts as follows: "I believe I may assert that whether the cost of living in Europe or in America is greater to the working man depends entirely on the standard of living he adopts while in America. If he voluntarily lives a life of self-denial in this country that he compulsorily lived in his native land, his outlay in money will remain about the same. Even then he will hardly escape gaining some from the superior supply of the good things of life in America. Living is cheap to the wage worker in Europe only because he does without what in America soon becomes a necessity to him—food in good quantity and quality, presentable clothes, and a comfortable home, and, in general, a larger and freer life. Meat is usually from 25 per cent. to 100 per cent. higher in Europe than in the United States. The immigrants coming to America find that he can buy in quantity, and (in cases where he need not) his flour, potatoes, fuel, sugar, coffee, salt—the essentials for his plain table—all cost less ordinarily than in the land he left. The cheapness and abundance of many varieties of fruit and of our melons and tomatoes is a surprise to him. Closely after the most pressing necessities come a line of things cheaper than in Europe, such as cotton clothing, jumpers and shoes. The wool and silk suits, furs, lace and kid gloves cost less abroad than in the United States. A fact, however, which bears as lightly in an inquiry as to the conditions of the masses as does the tariff on the masterpieces of art. The main conclusion as to housing is the same as that relating to food; if the immigrant who comes to this country is willing to continue living here at the same level he was obliged to accept in his native land, he can find it for the same money."

Stop "Cussing" and Begin Thinking.

Civilians who insist on "cussing" the tariff for the high cost of living should take a copy of the new tariff law in one hand and a price list of groceries and meats in the other and inform themselves. Maybe they will find what the philosophers call food for thought.

For example, it will be noted that the tariff rate has been increased on figs, pineapples, dates, hops, split peas, grapes in barrels, green peas, and all of these things either remain at the old prices or have been reduced in cost to the consumer. And we only see one chance for the "cussing" gentleman to reply. He may say he doesn't care for hops anyway.

On the other hand, the tariff has been reduced on beef, bacon, mutton, veal, pork, the sugar, green peas, cream, butter, apples, cabbage, lard, cornmeal and sugar, among other things—and on all these things, or nearly all of them, the prices have gone up.

There is no question of the high price of living. But it isn't fair to charge the tariff doesn't do it—as the facts and figures show.

Living costs more and more because more and more the people who produce have quit producing and have gone into the consuming class. And here is a little hope of the cost of living getting down to old-time prices until the tide of population turns from the mills and the cities, and the millions now depending on wages—or charity—turn to taking care of themselves by raising what they need for food, and a little for the market.

Then things will get down to the normal—and not until then.—Salt Lake City Herald.

Consular Reform.

The analysis of the operation of President Roosevelt's order of 1904 proving for promotion in the consular service and substituting examination for political pull as a requisite for appointment is highly gratifying. Of the 64 consuls general now serving 22 have been promoted under this order and three appointed after examination, the others having been in the service before the order. Of 250 consuls, 166 were serving before the order and 84 have been promoted and 60 appointed after examination.

The assumption is therefore justified that the membership of the service today is better qualified by length of service or by proved fitness upon examination than there was any hope that it ever was under the old spoils system of appointment. Under the administration of Secretary Knox absolute fitness will continue to be the test, as he has upon more than one occasion made plain. The consuls are the business agents of the government abroad with certain clearly defined duties. Hereafter a consular post will not be a foreign vacation at the expense of the government. The incumbents will have to earn their salaries and it is well to learn that in the first case it is seen they are capable of doing it.

PECULIAR CONTRAST

Dullness in the Financial Markets Compared With an Active Industrial Output.

New York, April 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "The business situation continues to display sharp contrasts. Dullness in the financial markets contrasts with an active industrial output. An unsatisfactory foreign trade contrasts with large domestic exchanges as reflected in the heavy bank clearings and railroad earnings. Weakness in pig-iron contrasts with a big production in finished steel. A moderate trade movement in the East contrasts with a record volume of business in certain parts of the West. The week's reports are, therefore, very irregular and make it difficult to sum up the situation in any one phrase satisfactorily broad to define adequately the state of trade in the nation as a whole."

Political conditions at home and abroad are still held responsible for the reaction in financial markets. But the country continues to carry on an immense volume of business and the further one gets from the financial center the more cheerful the outlook seems. Some irregularity is apparent in finished materials of iron and steel because of increasing capacity of the mills, yet it is significant that structural steel bookings for the first quarter exceed all previous records for that period with two exceptions. It is in pig iron that the least satisfactory conditions exist, as consumers still pursue a waiting attitude and prices show some further weakness. Demand for wire goods is expected to broaden with the advancing season and prospects indicate that a good volume of business will be placed.

Trade in footwear improves gradually and is much better than six weeks ago; the question of values is less of a disturbing element. Shipments from Boston show an increase this week. Some lines of leather, principally those for other than shoe purposes, are still quiet, but on shoe leathers the market shows increased activity and a stronger tone.

Failures and Exports.

New York, April 8.—Bradstreet's says:

Business failures in the United States for week ending April 7 were 240, against 229 last week, 227 in the week of 1909, 253 in 1908, 191 in 1907 and 126 in 1906. Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending April 7 aggregate 1,777,086 bush, against 1,744,279 last week and 1,061,244 last year. For the 40 weeks ending April 7 exports are 117,516,000 bush, against 14,570,699 in the corresponding period last year. Corn exports for the week are 695,624 bush, against 1,085,551 last week and 829,885 in 1909. For the 40 weeks ending April 7 corn exports are 23,370,478 bush, against 22,748,958 last year.

TOBACCO MARKET.

Louisville, April 10.—Total offerings last week were 3,413 hds. Of this number 726 hds. were burley and 887 hds. dark. There were only 392 hds. of burley sold at auction, composed largely of low-grades and rework. The condition was generally bad. Old burley offerings were small and prices the same as the previous week. The offerings of dark at auction amounted to 341 hds, principally common, air-cured, out-of-condition tobacco. The private sales consist of 165 hds. of burley and 381 hds. of dark, sold to various parties.

WASTED A FORTUNE ON SKIN TROUBLE

"I began to have an itching over my whole body about seven years ago and this settled in my limb, from the knee to the toes. I went to see a great many physicians, a matter which cost me a fortune, and after I noticed that I did not get any relief that way, I went for three years to the hospital. But they were unable to help me there. I used all the medicines that I could see but became worse and worse. I had an inflammation which made me almost crazy with pain. When I showed my foot to my friends they would get really frightened. I did not know what to do. I was so sick and had become so nervous that I positively lost all hope."

"I had seen the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies a great many times, but could not make up my mind to buy them, for I had already used so many medicines. Finally I did decide to use the Cuticura Remedios and I tell you that I was never so pleased as when I noticed that, after having used two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, the entire inflammation had gone. I was completely cured. I should be only too glad if people with similar disease would come to me and find out the truth. I would only recommend them to use Cuticura. Mrs. Bertha Sachs, 1621 Second Ave., New York, N. Y., Aug. 20, 1909."

"Mrs. Bertha Sachs is my sister-in-law and I know well how she suffered and was cured by Cuticura Remedies after many other treatments failed. Morris Sachs, 321 E. 89th St., New York, N. Y., Secretary of Deutsch-Ostrower Verein, President of Hebrew Benevolent Society, etc."
